Canvassing

International Inner Wheel Headquarters has received queries from members about Canvassing.

These members have perceived the presence and active participation of some members during Zoom and other electronic platform meetings and also on social media as a kind of Canvassing and therefore asked questions about it.

These communication methods could be misused to the advantage of members who are nominated by their District Committee for International Inner Wheel functions and at a later stage at National and District level.

National Representatives, District Chairmen and other organizers of such electronic platform meetings should restrain from asking members, who they know have been nominated by their District Committee for IIW functions, to make presentations during these meetings. Nominees themselves should be responsible persons and should not attend and organize such meetings.

On behalf of the members of the IIW Executive Committee.
